

Northeastern Technical College's Division of Continuing Education Presents:

Grant Writing for Beginners

February 26, 2010
Northeastern Technical College
Cheraw Campus, Room 212
9:00am – 4:00pm
Cost: $99 per person

This day long workshop is for anyone new to the professional world of grant writing. Participants will learn the basic methods of how to write a winning proposal including the essential components; how to define a community opportunity; how to match a proposal to the grant maker's interest; the ABC's of developing goals and objectives; where to find foundation, federal, state, and corporate grant giving opportunities; and much, much more!

The workshop will be taught by Lori Phillips, a Pee Dee native with more than ten years of experience in writing, reviewing and administering grant proposals.

Ms. Phillips has her Grant-Writing Specialist Certification and Grants Administration Certification.

The registration deadline is February 19, 2010
