

Northeastern Technical College's Division of Continuing Education Presents:

Private Investigator Training

Classes begin June 22, 2009
6 week Course Meets
Monday and Wednesday Evenings
5:45 – 8:45 pm
All campuses***
Course Cost: $175

The rise in Internet fraud, questionable insurance claims and divorce rates have created a need for more private investigators. Elmore Bethea, a licensed private investigator for 15 years, who also served as the Marion County Public Defenders Office Investigator and is a former detective for the Marion County Sheriffs Office, will teach the course.

During the course, students will learn investigative techniques, proper procedures for preparing reports, proper courtroom presentation, communication skills, how to market private investigator services and how to obtain information using the internet. Students will also learn to use the latest technology and equipment used by investigators in the field.

*This course will be broadcast from NETC Dillon to NETC campuses in Pageland, Cheraw and Bennettsville using distance learning technology. Students will attend class at the campus that is most convenient to them.
