Child Support Statement
2006-2007

Independent – Applicant Provide Information
Dependent Student – Parent Provide Information

If you are a single parent and did not receive child support in 2005, please make a statement telling us why you did not receive it. Note: Child Support does not have to be court directed; you could have received cash payments.

If you stated that the father/mother provides for the child/children or that the child support is not court ordered, please provide our office with a monetary value of the support given. Support can be money given directly to you or spent on the child/children.
